Executive Director's Comments

By Dwaine Robey

Outdoor Buddies elected four new members to the Outdoor Buddies Board of Directors at the November 12th board meeting.

Joining the board are Daniel Brown, James Lowry, Gerald Robinson, and Gina Robinson. All four of these new members have been working with the board for several months on various Outdoor Buddies tasks. Outdoor Buddies is continually striving to improve and expand our programs. These new board members are very dedicated individuals who will help us do that!

We are providing information about the new board members in this and future newsletter to familiarize them with members.

In this newsletter edition we will introduce you to James Lowry. Following is a short biography:

James Lowry

James Lowry initially became involved as a member of Outdoor Buddies through his friendship with Todd Bacon, a board member of Outdoor Buddies. Todd is a chaplain at the junior high school that James' children attended.

James saw the value, care and commitment of Outdoor Buddies firsthand when Todd and Larry Sanford invited James' son, Benjamin, on a youth hunt for antelope. As a result, James decided to volunteer and was ultimately honored with being nominated to serve on the board of Outdoor Buddies.

James is an accomplished medical device executive with over twenty five years' experience in Strategic Leadership, Business Development, Organizational Development, Sales Management, Corporate Accounts, and Professional Education, with companies such as Johnson and Johnson's Critikon and Cordis, Guidant, Edwards Lifesciences, and Sorin Group.

Prior to founding Compress the Curves Consulting, He was Vice President of Corporate Accounts and Healthcare Economics at Sorin Group U.S.A., Inc. His leadership responsibilities included managing and growing the Perfusion, Heart Valve, and CRM product portfolios through executive engagement in the largest U.S. hospital systems, IDNs and GPOs, as well as developing Sorin's Healthcare Economics department.

James graduated with a B.B.A. in Marketing from Texas A&M University.

He, his wife Jennifer and their four children live in Arvada, Colorado.

Outdoor Buddies is excited to have James as a member of the management team. His experience, expertise, and wisdom will be a tremendous asset to our organization.

If you have suggestions or comments, you are encouraged to contact any of the Outdoor Buddies board members. You can reach me at: (719) 783-9044 or dwaine.robey@outdoorbuddies.org.

President's Column

By Larry Sanford

I can't believe it is already November here in the Rocky Mountains!

Our awesome volunteers have been working very hard to make sure each of our folks have a wonderful outdoor experience through each of our outdoor events. Without families and friends all working together this monumental task could never happen!

The Outdoors Buddies banquet committee members are busy putting together auction and raffle items such as guns, trips and hunts for the Outdoor Buddies annual fundraiser scheduled for April 11th 2015.

We now have raffle tickets for sale with the winning tickets to be drawn at the fundraiser banquet in April.

We need everyone's help to buy and sell raffle tickets! We will be selling tickets at Sportsman's Warehouse Stores throughout the Front Range and anywhere else we can, but it takes ALL of us to make this happen. We need mobility-disabled members as well as youth and able bodied men and women members to help sell tickets to the public. Please contact Todd Bacon for the Denver Sportsman’s warehouse dates and times. Please contact Dwaine Robey for the Colorado Springs store and contact Larry Sanford for the Loveland store times and dates.

On a different note, we can use all of your help with an increasing problem that the hunt committee has been having with some members who have been on an Outdoor Buddies scheduled hunt.

The problem is that a few members have been asking landowners who have given Outdoor Buddies the privilege of bringing a limited number mobility-impaired folks on their property to hunt, for permission for themselves as well as their able bodied friends to come hunting without Outdoor Buddies. When this happens it violates the agreement between Outdoor Buddies and landowners. We work very hard to be fair in getting mobility-impaired folks who have submitted an Outdoor Buddies hunt request out on a big game hunt.

Outdoor Buddies is committed to honoring agreements with landowners and land managers who have granted us the privilege of taking mobility-impaired hunters on their properties. If you are going on an Outdoor Buddies big game hunt as a mobility-impaired hunter please tell anyone going out with you to help you that only the mobility-impaired are able to hunt big game on Outdoor Buddies sponsored hunts.

Thank you so much for your cooperation on this matter so that we can help everyone have a fair chance on going big game hunting!

I wish you all a happy Thanksgiving and a blessed Holiday!

Outdoor Buddies Needs Your Support

Now in existence for over thirty years, Outdoor Buddies continues to strive to expand its programs and offerings to the community.

It is our mission to provide opportunities, for those who have been deprived of access and enjoyment of outdoor experiences, through a volunteer based nonprofit organization.

We focus on those who are mobility impaired (requiring mechanical assistance), disadvantaged youth.

In order to meet our mission and provide services in our community, we rely on the generosity of individuals and businesses for support. Without the assistance of community-minded individuals just like you, we wouldn't be able to serve those in our community each year.

We ask that you make a commitment to support our annual appeal by making a cash donation.

Your generosity will make a difference in our community by allowing us to continue in our work.

Remember that every donation makes a difference, regardless of size.

Your donation is 100% tax deductible when there are no goods or services offered in exchange for this donation.

There are a few different ways you can make contributions to Outdoor Buddies.

- You can contribute via the Wet Mountain Valley Community Foundation using the form from this newsletter.
- You can contribute via the Outdoor Buddies website at www.outdoorbuddies.org
- You can contribute via the ColoradoGives website at <https://www.coloradogives.org/outdoorbuddies/overview>

Thank you in advance for your support!

How Do I Contribute to Outdoor Buddies via the WMVCF Spirit Campaign?

The Wet Mountain Valley Community Foundation conducts its annual Community Spirit Matching campaign to benefit local nonprofit organizations each November through the end of the year.

The Foundation will contribute matching funds, when donations are received by December 31st.

The maximum amount that will be matched is $1,000 per family and/or business. Matching funds will be prorated based on the dollar total of contributions made through the campaign.

Donations may also be made directly to the Community Foundation Spirit Campaign to increase the matching funds and further stretch the community's charitable dollars.

Donors wishing to take advantage of matching funds for donations made to Outdoor Buddies by check should use the donor form provided by the Foundation. Make checks payable to the Wet Mountain Valley Community Foundation (or WMVCF).

Hunt Committee Update

By Larry Sanford

Snow, mud sleet or freezing weather will not stop determined hunters with disabilities!

Since the last newsletter the volunteers who make Outdoor Buddies programs so great, have been working very hard taking mobility-impaired hunters on their big game hunts throughout the state of Colorado.

Each of the hunters was able to enjoy an outdoor experience with many memories to cherish and stories to be told!

The recently acquired action track chairs have made a very positive impact on our hunting programs by helping us get folks in hunting places quietly that we could only dream of before.

We now have two action track standers and one action track chair. We are very thankful to the people whose donations made them available to Outdoor Buddies!

I can tell you that it is wonderful to have the three track chairs but we could use several more. The reason is that on some of our hunting events we have multiple folks in chairs so right now they need to take turns. Wouldn't it be awesome to have a track chair for each one to use? What a day that will be!

We currently have twelve Youth Outreach doe pronghorn hunts in progress. So far, three of the youth hunters have each filled their license.

I want to thank their families for coming out on the hunts with them and spending a great day in the field!

The three hunters were Brooklyn Romero, Matt McFadden, and Ian Mulligan. All three were first time hunters, but you couldn't tell it from their composure and the good shots they made on their pronghorns with less than fair weather conditions!

Two families are from Colorado Springs, and they stayed at the Fort Collins Comfort Inn in rooms donated to Outdoor Buddies by the owner/operator, Dariusz Czyszczon. Thank you, Dariusz, for all you do for Outdoor Buddies!

Don Reed and I were the guides on these hunts. We picked up the families at the Comfort Inn on opening day.

We started the day by talking about where and how we would hunt the pronghorns and each hunter's expectations for the hunt. We had pictures of pronghorns to show them the difference between the bucks and does facial coloring so they knew what they could shoot. After arriving at the ranch we setup a pronghorn picture target that shows the shot placement of the vitals and each hunter shot at it twice.

Wow! These youth hunters' shots were as if they had been shooting for a lifetime. Now they were ready to go hunting!

We split into two vehicles, Don Reed was guiding Matt and his Dad on the west side of the ranch and Brooklyn and her Mom and Dad went in my truck with me guiding on the northeast side.

The wind was blowing and it was cold so shooting was not going to be easy. But the young hunters were excited to go!

We started spotting pronghorns right off the bat, but we needed to find a herd in a location with the wind in Brooklyn's favor.

After a little bit Brooklyn's Dad spotted a small herd bedded down and after looking them over we decided to make a stalk on them.

Brooklyn and her Dad stepped out of the truck and started their stalk. They moved to within about 135yards away from the herd. They set up the Caldwell Dead Shot shooting tripod and Brooklyn placed her .243 Ruger on it.

Then they waited for an animal to stand up and give Brooklyn a clear shot. After a little while, the animals stood and started to walk straight away from the hunters. Brooklyn put the crosshairs of her rifle scope on the doe she wanted to shoot in anticipation of it possibly turning to give her a shot.

As the pronghorns eased away we thought Brooklyn might not get a shot, but all of a sudden as if the Good Lord had a halter on the doe. It turned sideways and walked about ten feet from the rest of the herd and stopped broad side. Brooklyn was ready for the doe's move! She settled the rifle scopes crosshairs on the vitals and with the calmness of an experienced hunter Brooklyn pulled the trigger,

BOOM! The doe took two steps and fell dead; Brooklyn's shot took the heart right out! Brooklyn's Mom, who is eight months pregnant, and Dad cheered and hugged her as the tears of happiness and the self-imposed pressure were just released. That family will do many hunts and make many memories for years to come! That is one reason why Outdoor Buddies volunteers do all the hard work they do.

Matt, Ian and their Dads will be sending in articles about their successful pronghorn hunts so keep your eye out for Matt and Ian's stories in future newsletters! If you would like to be a part of any of the future hunts please let the Hunt Committee know!

If you want to go waterfowl hunting contact Larry Sanford ASAP. The weather vortex up north has been starting to push the geese and ducks on their annual migration South through Colorado.

If you have any questions about any of our hunting opportunities contact Larry Sanford.

My First Elk Hunt

By Douglas Conner

Martie Brocko, Douglas Conner, and Steve Nichols.

The day I became a quadriplegic, the accident occurring forty one years ago, one of my friends and I were on our way to spot for elk with the season quickly approaching.

I thought my opportunity to hunt ever again was over, but equipment has been developed for those who can't use their fingers to pull the trigger of a rifle making it possible.

On November 8th, a chilly, foggy morning, I met with Martie Brocko and Steve Nichols from Outdoor Buddies in Estes Park. Along with Tammy, my nursing assistant, we loaded into my minivan to hunt for a cow elk.

As I drove where Steve told me onto private property with access privileges attained through Outdoor Buddies, the fog lifted and we spotted some elk. They were bulls and of course I had a cow tag. The bulls had separated from the cows and calves and the only females we saw were on land we couldn't hunt.

After a couple hours of driving and not having the right opportunities, we drove into town to eat breakfast.

After breakfast, we decided that we'd make one more round, noticing that the elk had started to bed down for the afternoon.

On our way back toward town Steve directed me to a field that Marty and Steve had dubbed 'Marty's Paradise' because in the past it was an area for her that has been very productive.

As we crested the hill we saw four cows feeding in 'Paradise'.

We had to drive around the hill as quickly as possible to get into a position where I could get a shot at one of the cows.

We positioned ourselves for a shot. As a cow walked between two trees and gave me a side shot, I fired and missed, shooting just a tad high. She moved five feet behind a tree and I waited for her or one of the others to get into position for another shot.

In about three minutes [a lifetime] something or someone spooked them and another elk stopped in the same spot as where I missed the one before.

I took aim, compensating for firing high before, and with a lung shot, she went down quickly.

After Steve field dressed her he winched her into the bed of his truck, backed up to the back of my minivan and they all joined to transfer her into my van.

Mission accomplished!

To whom it may concern,

Do you know someone who can help build me a UTV like in the picture below?

If so, please contact me at 720-315-1878 Douglas Conner

Youth Deer Hunts

My First Successful Big Game Hunt

By Stephan Barr

On November 7th my "Poppy", Tim Madigan, called and said Outdoor Buddies had made two deer tags available for youth hunters and wanted to know if we could use them.

My best friend Alex and I completed our hunter safety education last year when we turned 13, but had no luck. We were so excited to be able to give it another try.

Me, my Dad, my poppy, and Alex all got up early Saturday morning and headed to the property.

We got set up and waited, but not for long!

Out came a huge buck and I was ready for him. I took aim and shot...first shot!

Stephan Barr

We got him in our truck and set out to find another one for Alex.

Time passed by but we could not locate a buck for Alex. I think we scared the others off with the noise from the one I shot, so we headed home for the day.

When we got home we skinned the deer and cut up the meat into a cooler, then my Dad took the head and antlers to the taxidermist to be mounted!

We all got up early the next morning and went back to the property to see if Alex could get a buck.

It took us a little while, but eventually a buck presented itself and Alex took aim. I think his sites were off just a bit, as it took two shots, but he got him!! It was a really nice 3X4!

We gutted him, skinned him, and cut up the meat. My Dad dropped the head and antlers off with mine to be mounted.

This year hunting meant a lot to me because I got to go and spend time with my Dad and Grandpa...my best friend and I both got our first big game together and I got to shoot probably the biggest buck I will ever shoot. It was a 5x5 buck that scored 200 7/8!

Thank you Outdoor Buddies, Rob Adams, Dan Warner, Tim Madigan, and Chad Barr; this wouldn't have been possible without you!

And most of all, everyone involved expresses VERY SPECIAL THANKS to Gary and Amy Ziegler, owners of Bear Basin Ranch. They donated the landowner vouchers to Outdoor Buddies, making it possible for Alex and me to get the hunting licenses for our hunts.

Twentymile Mine Elk Hunt with Roy Bennett

By Ken Bennett

Roy Bennett has been a hunter since being a small boy in South Texas. He often hunted squirrels in the Nueces River bottom near Sandia. He is a dedicated fisherman for bass and catfish and is still an avid hunter for quail, doves, squirrels, whitetail deer, mule deer, and axis deer. And now he has added elk to that list.

Roy entered the US Navy in 1939 along with five of his friends after deciding that picking peanuts was not for them. After his career in the Navy, Roy retired to Kerrville in 1962 and started a second career at the VA Hospital.

As a hunter for the better part of his life, Roy is used to the waiting game in the woods with a gun in hand. But at 93 years old, the World War II veteran and Pearl Harbor survivor from Center Point, Texas, was getting understandably anxious on Halloween weekend.

Roy and his son, Ken, were paired up with Larry Sanford, Outdoor Buddies' president, for an elk hunt on Twentymile Coal Mine's private land southwest of Steamboat Springs.

Unseasonable weather passed through the region. Warm days on Halloween were followed by an unexpected cold storm Sunday and Monday, making the chances of bringing something home slim. But, Tuesday morning proved to be very exciting.

Larry Sanford was Roy's guide driving his truck with Roy beside him and Ken Bennett and Dwaine Robey providing backup when Larry spotted a herd of about 50 elk up ahead. The few bulls in the herd were simply too far away to get a shot off.

Then luck turned in Roy's favor. "We went around a hill and all the sudden Larry Sanford was Roy's guide.

there were four elk with two bulls," Ken Bennett said. You could not have had a happier person than our 93-year-old at that time."

That's when we met up with two other hunters, Billy Hampton and his son, Ryan. Billy works at the mine and has helped Larry with Outdoor Buddies hunts there for many years. Ryan is a deputy sheriff.

"I am 93, but right now I feel 21!"

Billy and Ryan had each harvested elk and teamed up with us and did much of the work involved with field dressing and transporting the elk. Our sincere thanks go out to Billy and Ryan!

We need to get these animals processed!

Taking care of animals after a successful hunt is always a lot of work! These elk are large animals and very much different from handling an antelope or even a deer. It seems like they weigh a ton! But with all the experience and knowledge possessed by Larry, Billy, and Ryan, it looked easy. The Outdoor Buddies Arctic Cat Prowler with a winch was a big help in loading the elk into Billy's truck for the trip back to town. I guess that is another reason Outdoor Buddies is so valuable to disabled hunters; they could never do that kind of work without help.

Ken Bennett: "You guys have no idea how happy you made my Dad. He continually talked on the way back to Texas how much he enjoyed himself and how nice he was treated. Outdoor Buddies is an organization that fulfills dreams. Thank you from the bottom of my heart."

My Outdoor Buddies Pronghorn Hunt

By Brandon Fagley

It sure feels great to be back in this great country. I just got out of the Navy after being medically discharged due to a severe back injury that ended up taking away most of the function of my left leg.

When I was in the process of being discharged my Dad told me that Outdoor Buddies had invited me to hunt antelope, if I could make it.

We arrived early in the morning at Meadow Springs Ranch and it was very windy. As we started hunting we were in Darrell Erickson's brand new Chevrolet heavy duty truck. My Dad, Randy, was in the back seat watching for antelope.

Right away we saw a herd of deer running but no antelope. It was a big herd about 18-20 deer.

After about an hour had gone by we saw our first herd of antelope! There were about 15 antelope with a buck that had HUGE horns!

I wasn't this nervous out in security forces training in the Navy; I was shaking like crazy.

The wind was hurling by at about 30 mph as I pulled up on the scope and boy it was just swaying back and forth. It seemed like I was trying to draw a circle with my cross hairs to outline this trophy buck!

I shot at 225 yards and missed. The buck didn't even flinch. The wind was bad he didn't even hear the shot, so I shot again! This time the shot was at about 240 yards and I saw the dirt kick up under his legs. The bullet had dropped almost three feet due to the distance and wind. I shot one more time and missed again.

By then my heart was pounding and I was breathing heavily. I missed the buck, but man what a rush!

We let the trophy buck go as it would have been an "unsportsmanlike" shot at that point, and we didn't want it to suffer from a wound or bad shot that might graze such a beautiful animal.

We drove around and scouted for another hour and a half before we saw a second herd with about a dozen antelope in it, and it also had a buck.

The horns weren't nearly as big as the trophy buck I missed three times, however the body was just as big and I was on a mission to put some good meat in my freezer.

Darrell pulled over about 100 yards away and I got out of the vehicle. I was nervous about missing the last three shots as I pulled the buck up in my scope. He was walking to the right so I had a broadside shot.

BOOM! I missed again! The shot went right over the top of him. I reloaded and decided to use the door as leverage to steady my shot this time.

By now the buck was headed toward a barbed wire fence and decided to run to my left. I followed him in my scope and missed again! That shot stopped the buck and he headed straight away from me at about 160 yards. This is my last shot, I told myself, as there was only one round left in the rifle, and on top of that, the antelope was quickly running away from me. I pulled up and looked and saw the buck running away. "If the buck turns left or right any second from now I will hit him in the lungs", I told myself.

I had the cross hairs in the perfect position, and as the buck turned left I shot.

BOOM! The shot hit the antelope, entered the spinal cord and exited through his right lung. He dropped instantly.

I heard my Dad scream good job Buck! I was so relieved because although I had taken six shots to get him, I at least have some meat to show for all that wasted lead!

I had a great time with Darrell and my Dad. It was also good to see Rob Adams as he is a great friend of our family.

Thank You, OUTDOOR BUDDIES for the memories that I will cherish forever, especially, since I just came home from serving in the Navy. I thank God, I can still hunt with my Dad and that there are great opportunities through a great organization like the Outdoor Buddies to make this day possible.
