2018 Outdoor Buddies Banquet

Please make plans to attend the 2018 Outdoor Buddies banquet. This year’s event celebrates thirty-four years of community service by Outdoor Buddies.

The funds raised at the annual banquet are critical to the success in meeting our mission to provide outdoor adventure experiences for disabled persons and youth. With your help, this year’s banquet will provide necessary funds for Outdoor Buddies to continue; improve, and expand its programs.

Why wait; make your reservations now!

The 2018 banquet will be held at the Hyatt Regency Aurora Denver Conference Center in Aurora on Saturday, April 21st.

Don’t forget to invite all your friends and family to come too! Consider purchasing ten (10) tickets which will reserve a table for your group. That way you and your friends will be assured that you can share a table at the banquet.

Banquet tickets can be purchased using the form included in this newsletter or from the Outdoor Buddies website at: http://outdoorbuddies.org/annualfundraiser/

Do you want to stay overnight at the Hyatt Regency after the banquet? Why not make it a fun “get-away” weekend and sleep in on Sunday morning? Outdoor Buddies has arranged for discounted lodging for $99.00 plus tax for banquet guests. You can make your lodging reservation online at: https://aws.passkey.com/event/49541695/owner/14712268/home

Our First Hunt

By Max Zoccali

My name is Max Zoccali and I am 14-years old and on November 25th my brother, Connor Walsh, and I went on our first hunt with Outdoor Buddies. It was an antelope hunt on Meadow Springs Ranch and it was awesome!

It was an unusually warm day right after Thanksgiving, and we were out the door at 6:30 AM. I think I speak for both my brother and I when I say that we were extremely excited, but also anxious.

Backing up a few days, and to help us get ready, on November 12th we met up with Tom and Mike Swezey, volunteers with Outdoor Buddies, on their property outside of Wellington, Colorado. They helped us zero in Connor’s rifle and let us practice shoot.

On the day of the hunt, my brother, Connor, who is a T-12 paraplegic, took his own truck, while my dad, Matt Zoccali, and I rode together. My dad and I got there a little later than my brother.

As we got to the base camp up on Meadow Springs Ranch, Larry Sanford and about 10 other hunters were in a circle talking about partners and locations for the day’s hunt.

We were honored to have our first hunt be with Larry, and it couldn’t have been better.

To get us started, Larry let us shoot a little and get warmed up at a spot not far off the nearby railroad tracks. About 30 minutes later, after we shot a couple rounds, we found the first herd.

Having the proper mindset is almost as important as having the gun when going hunting. If you aren’t completely ready to take an animal’s life for the first time and stall, it can be dangerous and end in a bad result. My brother had the mindset of “I know what I need to do, and if I hesitate it could end badly for both the antelope and me. I knew what was going to happen, and was ready for it. While I, on the other hand, was much more nervous. I also knew what I needed to do, but you can’t prepare yourself for that moment when the antelope is in your crosshairs, and you pull the trigger.

Connor had a Mobility-Assist Hunting Permit to shoot out of Larry’s truck so as soon as we found the herd Larry set him up right away.

It took about 10-15 minutes before the antelope Connor got was by herself, a clear shot and as soon as she was, Connor got her. First one down, now it was my turn.

We were almost able to get an antelope out of the same herd, but they ran away before we could get a good shot.

We drove north a bit and soon saw a small group bedded down. Directly east was the interstate, so we had to plan this one correctly.

Larry and I left my Dad and Connor at the truck, took the rifle, and stalked up over a ravine and waited…. they got up.

We targeted a doe about 225 yards out and waited till there were no other antelope behind her. I took the shot. She kicked and fought a little, but was down quickly.

Larry waved my Dad and brother up in the truck and soon we had two antelope!

In talking to Connor after the hunt, he told me that, to be disabled and be able to hunt makes him feel normal again, that it shows that you can still do normal things like anyone else.

We also felt proud and humble to know that these antelope were going to feed our family, and it was for the right cause. We are very grateful to have our first hunt be with Larry and Outdoor Buddies.

People with diverse abilities can go out and experience nature and all it provides; this organization gives them a sense of normalcy for that one day. It also provides a sense of accomplishment and pride for providing for yourself and food for your family. We can’t thank Larry and this program enough.

"We rise by lifting others."
My First Antelope
By Jake Filler

I was invited to hunt with Outdoor Buddies in November. My Dad and I drove down from our home in Steamboat Springs and spent the night in Fort Collins. We got up the next morning and met Larry Sanford and our guide Nick Filler at the property.

We drove for a few minutes before we spotted several small groups of pronghorn. We hopped out of the truck and started our first stalk. I thought this would be easy and end quickly. I couldn’t quite get a good rest on a speed goat that would stand still. We repeated this procedure many times with no shots fired.

Then my Dad pulled a Homer. He was getting ready to carefully step over a short fence which had no barbs on it. He didn’t see any electric insulators that the old electric fences had, so he thought it would be OK to step over it. After he got one leg over it he discovered it was electrified. He jumped and let out a high pitched scream when the current hit him. Nick and I laughed and laughed. Good one Homer. This is what modern electric fences look like!

All the speed goats we saw were very spooky and would run when they saw anything truck like or human. We continued to the far side of the property and parked. Nick ranged the nearest doe at 395 yards. I’m used to shooting that distance except we had a problem. The wind had come up big time. Dad threw some bunny fur and determined we had a perfect crosswind he guessed to be 20 mph.

I dialed my Nightforce scope in to 400 yds. and aimed about 12 inches left to compensate for the wind. I was surprisingly calm and gently squeezed off a 140 grain Nosler Accubond with my 6.5 Norma.

A hit!

She got up and limped out to 429 yds. I hit her again and dropped her. What a thrill. As a 12 year old that was only the second animal I had ever shot.

Next problem; I had failed to zip my pocket that held my cell phone. It had slid out sometime earlier.

Thanks to “Find My IPhone” and my Mom using 2 computers at home to guide us to the lost phone, we made a successful recovery.

My Dad has always taught me to learn something new every time you hunt and don’t pull the trigger unless it feels right.

Nick was one of the friendliest, professional, and caring guides I have ever met. And Larry is a true hero for all he does for Outdoor Buddies!

2017 Youth Antelope Hunt with Outdoor Buddies
By Emily Schmid

Recently, I went on my second Outdoor Buddies youth hunt for antelope. Though my Dad was not very keen on having to drive from Florence up to Fort Collins, he agreed to go if I called Larry Sanford and arranged the hunt myself.

Early on the day of the hunt, we left our home outside of Florence and drove the four-hour trip to the Meadow Springs Ranch north of Fort Collins.

After we arrived at the corral, the Outdoor Buddies representatives, Larry Sanford and Dan Brown showed up.

As all the hunters filled out the required paperwork, I started talking with another girl close to my own age. We spoke about our previous experiences with Outdoor Buddies and the nervousness we felt for the upcoming hunt.

After being told where we were permitted to hunt and informed of other specific rules, one of the older boys in the group said a prayer for the safety and success of the hunt.
Driving along a fence after heading out, we saw a badger running in front of our truck. It stopped and hissed at us as we got closer.

Later, we spotted a hawk sitting in a prairie dog field. It also took off once we were too close for its comfort.

We had seen a few antelope, but all had been on another property where we were not permitted to hunt. After a while we ran into Dan Brown, who was watching the other hunting groups from a high spot. He joined us in the truck and guided us to places where he believed the antelope to be.

Dan suggested making a loop through the ravines in order to approach a herd of antelope that had been run off by other hunters from a different angle. His strategy was a great success!

As we came out of the ravines, we were facing a large herd of antelope. I jumped out of the truck and took a shot at around 150 yards.

I had gotten my antelope with one shot!

At first feeling guilty for having taken the life of such a beautiful animal, I learned that the doe I had harvested was old, weak, and might not have made it through the rest of the winter.

We quickly field dressed the antelope, took some photos, and then headed back to the corral.

Before returning home, we enjoyed drinking coffee with Dan while listening to some of his Outdoor Buddies stories.

I am very grateful to have had this opportunity. Not only was I able to get my antelope, I could spend a day on a beautiful ranch, where the endangered Black Footed Ferret was reintroduced and other native animals were protected.

I would like to thank Larry Sanford and Dan Brown for this amazing experience with Outdoor Buddies!
2018 Big Game Hunt Requests

Outdoor Buddies had some great outdoor adventures in 2017! Antelope hunters had a great year with most of the hunters taking home meat for the freezer.

We are still conducting the last of the 2017 season’s elk hunts.

Now is the time to start planning 2018 big game hunts. Disabled members who want to participate in Outdoor Buddies sponsored big game hunts in 2018 need to submit an online big game hunt request via the Outdoor Buddies website. You can submit your request at: http://outdoorbuddies.org/join/

Early submission of your hunt request gives the Outdoor Buddies big game hunt committee time to match your request with available hunting opportunities prior to the April CPW deadline for license applications. Early submission of your hunt request increases the likelihood of being selected for a hunt.

Please notify us if you know of any land owners who may give us permission to hold an Outdoor Buddies hunt on their property. You can contact one of the following members of the big game hunt committee; Larry Sanford, Dwaine Robey, Nick Filler, Jim Piper, or Dan Brown.

We look forward to seeing you in the field and reading your stories about your hunt.

Why It Is Called Hunting!

By Dwaine Robey

Hunting, sport that involves the seeking, pursuing, and killing of wild animals and birds, called game and game birds, primarily in modern times with firearms but also with bow and arrow. ... In the United States and elsewhere the term hunting is used for both hunting and shooting.

Archaeologists have unearthed what could be the earliest evidence of ancient human ancestors hunting and scavenging meat. Animal bones and thousands of stone tools used by ancient hominins suggest that early human ancestors were butchering and scavenging animals at least 2 million years ago.

More than 100 million animals are reported killed by hunters each year. That number does not include the millions of animals for which kill figures are not maintained by state wildlife agencies.

Each year, approximately 2.7 million dogs and cats are killed because shelters are too full and there aren’t enough adoptive homes. Among mammals 41,700,000 cows and calves were killed for food in 2000, as well as 115,200,000 pigs and 4,300,000 sheep, for a total of 161,200,000. These stats are also expected to continue to rise. Thus, the total number of all animals killed for food in 2000 was 9.7 billion.

In the United States, approximately 9 billion chickens are killed for their flesh each year, and 305 million hens are used for their eggs. The vast majority of these animals spend their lives in total confinement—from the moment they hatch until the day they are killed.

For many people, hunting is an inseparable part of life and has been since the dawn of humankind; it has, for example, assisted human development and progress. Hunting and all activities associated with it are very important intercultural phenomena—not only in the United States, but throughout the world.

For Outdoor Buddies and its members, hunting is an excuse to enjoy the outdoors. Outdoor Buddies mission is “To provide opportunities, for those who have been deprived of access and enjoyment of outdoor experiences, through a volunteer based nonprofit organization.”

Our purposes are:

- To focus on those who are mobility impaired (requiring mechanical assistance), disadvantaged youth, and other classes of individuals selected by the Board of Directors, (as otherwise impaired).
- To offer outdoor experiences include hunting, fishing, boating, camping, and education in the use of the outdoors for recreational activities.
- To provide opportunities to all, with no additional cost (other than personal expenses) and no discrimination due to race, color, creed, religion, sex, or family status.
- To endorse the principle that wildlife and the environment are to be protected, preserved and managed for the benefit of all people.
- To foster closer relationships and acquaintances among individuals with mobility disabilities through outdoor experiences.
- To foster closer relationships and acquaintances among disadvantaged youth through outdoor activities e.g. camping, fishing, outdoor education, etc.
- To arrange and present varied programs and special events of interest to this volunteer organization.

So, for Outdoor Buddies the term hunting does not mean “killing of animals”. It means “getting out and enjoying the outdoors”.

Many of our big game hunts do not include killing an animal. However, that does not mean it was an unsuccessful hunt. To the contrary, getting participants in our hunting programs into the outdoors is our primary goal.

Some hunts are better than others; however there is never an “unsuccessful Outdoor Buddies hunt”.

Recently, I have been involved in hunts where we hunted hard for three days and did not harvest an animal. I do not consider these unsuccessful hunts. The participants thoroughly enjoyed their time in the outdoors. It is difficult to measure the therapeutic value of these experiences!

Conversely, some hunts go exceedingly well. Such a hunt was a cow elk hunt for Outdoor Buddies member Mr. Bruce Gambell who was able to get his animal the first day of the hunt with assistance from his friend Bill Gowdy.

Bruce Gambell and buddy, Bill Gowdy, enjoyed a great outdoor adventure experience with Outdoor Buddies.
Two Times Blessed
By Steve Medberry

I was blessed to have a successful elk hunt with Outdoor Buddies this year. I am very grateful for the opportunity to go out and enjoy some of the best elk country in the state, meet some quality gentlemen and lifelong friends, and harvest a cow with my own rifle. I had been lucky enough to receive a spot on a hunt in early December, and was even able to bring my wife along to enjoy the experience of hunting alongside me on this particular trip.

On the weekend of December 8th, we set out on a cow hunt on the Trapper Mine property, a sprawling expanse of hills, gullies, draws, and blankets of oak brush providing a perfect habitat for the herds of elk as they migrate away from the winter snows. The snow had been light this season, but it had been enough to finally get the elk moving. I greatly enjoyed the chance to show my wife a glimpse of the world of hunting that I love. She had never experienced anything like it before, yet she showed a keen eye for spotting game early on in our hunt.

On this particular trip, I hoped to serve both as a hunter and as a volunteer. I had already been blessed with an elk hunting opportunity this season, but had been able to come up for a second chance at my elk, and for a chance to assist my fellow hunters with handicaps to fill their tags as well. I wanted to give back in response to the gift that I had been given.

Our guides, most of who work at Trapper Mine, were excellent company. They had a way of inviting me and the other hunters into their fold with casual ease, and they treated each of us as if they had known us for years. I was glad to be able to ride along with several of them, as we scoured the hills in search of elk. The morning hunt was exciting but ultimately unsuccessful; no one in the group was able to make a clean shot. But the elk were there; all we needed was the right opportunity.

As luck would have it, that opportunity would come in the late afternoon. I was hunting with Rob in his truck, and he managed to spot a small cluster of cows down below us. When we made our way down to them, the elk seemed to become immediately uneasy, and they quickly began to make their way up the ridge to fade from view. Just before they crested the hill, I lined up a broadside shot and pressed the trigger. We would later learn that it was a clean double lung shot at 300 yards; the cow practically fell where she stood.

I am thrilled that I was able to harvest a cow this year, and am grateful to Outdoor Buddies for the opportunity. Yet, my favorite memory of this hunt came after we had already returned to Thornton the following day. In my excitement, I ended up misplacing a bag of clothing and gear, and left it behind back in Craig. However, I had exchanged numbers with my new friend Todd during the hunt, so I called him to see if he could bring the bag down with him when he left for home. He lives very close to me, so it was a simple matter to stop by his house to recover the bag after he got home. When I went to see him, we got to catch up about the hunt, pray together, and plan to spend more time together in the near future.

I am grateful for the success I experienced on this hunt—game in the freezer, a new experience for my wife, and the chance to connect and bond with other hunters like Todd. I am excited to spend more time participating with and serving alongside Outdoor Buddies.

Happy holidays, everyone!

Cow Bison Hunt

This bison hunt will take place in October or November 2018 on a private ranch in Park County, Colorado and will be guided by a ranch manager.

The head, hide, and meat are the property of the hunter.

After the kill, guides will take care of field dressing your animal. Meat processing fees are not included, although we can help make arrangements.

Bison meat is great tasting and great for you! Most people say bison is the most flavorful meat they have ever tasted, with a sweeter and richer flavor than beef. It is not 'gamey' or wild tasting. Bison meat is much lower in fat and calories than other meats, including poultry and fish. 100 grams of bison meat contains 2.42 grams of fat, compared to 7.41 grams of fat for chicken, 8.09 grams for select beef, 9.66 grams of fat for pork, and 10.97 for salmon. In addition, 100 grams of bison meat amounts to 143 calories, which is half that of choice beef (283 calories) and still lower than most other meats. For example, 100 grams of chicken would be 190 calories, pork would be 212, select beef is 201 calories, and 100 grams of sockeye salmon is 216 calories.

This bison hunt opportunity is well suited for older and/or disabled persons who can no longer ride on horseback or walk over very rugged terrain.

Outdoor Buddies believes that everyone deserves the opportunity to enjoy the outdoors!

$20 per ticket or 6 tickets for $100
